ADVERTISE IN THE FARMER.

IF IT DISAPPEARS IT'S ECZEMA

How to Tell Whether a Skin Affection is an Inherited Blood Disease or Not.

Sometimes it is hard to determine whether a skin affection is a sign of a blood disorder or simply a form of eczema. Even physicians are often puzzled in their diagnosis. The best way for any one afflicted is to go to Jennie Hamilton's Pharmacy, or any good druggist who handles pure drugs and obtain 50 cents' worth of poslam. Apply this, and if the itching stops at once and the trouble is cured in a few days it may be set down as having been eczema, as this is the way poslam acts in the worst cases of eczema, and in curing acne, herpes, blotches, tetter, piles, salt rheum, rash, barbers' and other forms of itch, scaly scalp, and all surface skin affections.

Any one who will write to the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York, can secure, by mail free of charge, a supply sufficient to cure a small eczema surface or clear a complexion overnight and remove pimples in twenty-four hours.

KAISER SCORES ARMY OFFICERS

(Special from United Press.)
Mergentheim, Germany, Sept. 17. The great army maneuvers, in which 120,000 German soldiers participated, came to an end to-day, a lecture by the Kaiser to the officers of the rival "Red" and "Blue" armies marking the conclusion of the operation.

Bugles summoned the officers around the Kaiser, who delivered his lecture on horseback. He wore the gorgeous uniform of a field marshal and held in his hand his wand of office as commander-in-chief. In his harsh, penetrating voice, the Kaiser delivered emphatic opinions on what the maneuvers had demonstrated. He mercilessly criticized some of the officers who had blundered and warmly praised others who had shown marked ability.

The disbandment of the army followed the address by the Kaiser.

ALFONSO LEAVES PRESS CENSORSHIP TO HIS CABINET

(Special from United Press.)
Madrid, via Hendaye, Sept. 17.—King Alfonso's decision to leave the matter of modifying the press censorship to his cabinet, is considered as practically a flat refusal by the editors who returned to Madrid, and call a special meeting of the cabinet to consider the editors' complaint, is not construed as a hopeful sign by the public. It is conceded that any other action on Alfonso's part would have provoked the resignation of the cabinet. There is little hope that the cabinet will acquiesce in any marked degree to the editors' demands.

An absolutely true statement of war conditions in Morocco and political conditions at home, it is conceded, would greatly increase the revolutionary spirit.

Miss Poli Now Making a Hit in Grand Opera

Following the hit she made on her debut as an opera singer in New Haven a little over a year ago Miss Lillian Poli, niece of Sylvester Z. Poli, is now scoring a success and receiving flattering press notices in Boston. "The Chocolate Soldier," which opened at the Lyric theater in New York on Monday. The opera was tried out in Philadelphia and Boston, and immediately took and in the reviews given by the press of that city Miss Poli was flatteringly commended.

MAUCH CHUNG, GETTYSBURG, HARPER'S FERRY, WASHINGTON.

Six Day Tour, All Expenses, From New York, October 16th.

In announcing this tour the Lehigh Valley R. R. Co. finds it difficult to adequately express in a brief reading notice its many delightful and impressive features.

Leaving New York in the morning the ride is through the beautiful hills and farms of New Jersey, along the Lehigh River and Canal, passing through the thriving cities of Easton, Bethlehem and Allentown. Mauch Chung is reached before noon. Here is taken the famous switchback trip with its glorious views of the region known as the "Switzerland of America." Then through the beautiful Pennsylvania's capital, to Gettysburg. This battlefield, ranking in importance with Waterloo, Sedan, and other great conflicts of the past, lies on its grounds more monuments than all other battlefields of the world combined.

From Gettysburg to Washington the train passes through Antietam (in sight of) South Mountain, Harper's Ferry, where stop is made to view the site of John Brown's Fort, Sand Hook and many other points made immortal by the War of the Rebellion. Stop will be made at Pen Mar, in the Alleghenies, to obtain the famous view of four States, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia. Three days are spent in Washington, although the tickets will be good for a longer stay if same is desired. The entire trip is made under personal escort, and it is submitted that no tour has ever been offered the public which combines so much of historic and picturesque interest as does this, for the cost covers all expenses for six days on this grand autumnal tour.

EARLE HOME BUT WITHOUT SOUL-MATE

Shuts Himself up in Impregnable Castle Overlooking Monroe, N. Y.

(Special from United Press.)

New York, Sept. 17.—Artist Ferdinand Pinney Earle, of affinity-soul-mate-platonic friendship fame, has returned from Europe and shut himself up in his impregnable castle, overlooking Monroe, N. Y., from which he is trying to arrange for a monster clam bake by which he hopes to cool the heated words that are being leveled in his direction by his townspeople.

In a little studio in New York, with a close woman friend, Miss Gertrude Buell Dunn, of the far West, Earle's latest platonic friendship mate, is trying to forget the artist.

The exact time of the return to America of Earle is not known, but it is thought he either came on the same ship with Miss Dunn or shortly thereafter.

The moody seclusion of Earle is said to have convinced his friends that his platonic friendship plans have gone to smash again.

Miss Dunn is said to have grown disgusted with Earle in Paris and to have returned alone to America. Undismayed, Earle returned to find for himself another soul mate. When they went abroad, it was understood they would remain there indefinitely, on terms of pure platonic friendship, to demonstrate that a man and a woman who prize each other highly can live that way.

Earle will not receive a cordial greeting in Monroe, but aside from this real wife for his first affinity, Miss Julia Kuttner, the townspeople said harsh things about him. When he was arrested for molesting Miss Kuttner, after he had married her, they chuckled "I told you so's" to their hearts' content. When Miss Kuttner sued him for divorce, they threatened to use tar and feathers and spoke of free rides on rails, but they did not materialize.

When Earle went abroad with his latest sister, they hoped he would be gone forever. But when they learned that Miss Dunn, disgusted, had left Earle and returned alone to New York and that he had returned to Monroe and wanted to give them a clam bake, they swore they wouldn't attend his clam bake and they hoped he'd soon shake the dust of Monroe from his heels forever and find a soul sister who would keep him in Europe for the rest of his days.

Holy Ghost and Us To Eclipse Dowie

(Special from United Press.)
Boston, Sept. 17.—The Rev. F. W. Sanford, head of the Holy Ghost F. W. Society of Lisbon Falls, Maine, who recently toured the world in a small yacht to revive his followers, now plans to return to his home in Maine colony to South America. With this end in view, Sanford is in Boston to-day and will call on the Spanish and Portuguese consuls to get information of a tract of land in South America which has been offered him as a sugar plantation. Should the land be bought, a large party from Shiloh will go south to attempt to eclipse the Dowie days at Zion City.

TESTIMONIES AFTER FOUR YEARS.

Carlisle Center, N. Y., G. B. Burhano, writes: "About four years ago I wrote you that I had been entirely cured of kidney trouble by taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy. After four years I am again pleased to state that I have never had any return of those symptoms, and I am evincing the best of health. I am convinced that Foley's Kidney Remedy will do the same for you. F. B. Brill, local agent. *125

SUICIDE BADE WIFE TO THROW BODY INTO ASH BARREL

(Special from United Press.)

Boston, Sept. 17.—After writing one of the Engaged Notes for last week, Maurice C. Freeman, a prosperous salesman, is dead to-day, a suicide, in his home here. His farewell to his wife before he threw his body in an ash barrel. Freeman's message read as follows: "I have decided to commit suicide, and I am leaving the best wife and daughter that ever lived. Do not spend any money on my burial, but throw my body into the ash barrel."

"Your Loving Husband and Father, MAURICE."

The Consolidation of THE LABORDE CO. And The KLEBAN & GELMAN Stores

brings together the two leading houses in their respective lines in Bridgeport

The consolidation of these great stores into one GREATER STORE is of highest importance to the shopping public. It means a combination of merchandising experience and buying strength which will enable two consolidated stores to offer you greater stocks and greater values than they have ever been able to do as separate institutions.

The most progressive policy will be pursued by the new store, only the most advanced styles and select qualities will be carried in the various departments; but our prices will be lower than equally desirable merchandise can be bought at any other Bridgeport store. This is made possible by our greater buying power and the exceptionally small profit margin which we will charge.

Come in to the store and note the many improvements going on. See the constantly arriving new Fall stocks and you can SEE the benefit of the consolidation far more clearly than we can tell you of them.

ROOSEVELT KILLS ANOTHER ELEPHANT

While Kermit Brings Down Five Lions and Three Buffaloes.

(By Staff Correspondent of the United Press.)

Nairobi, Sept. 17.—Natives arriving to-day from the Roosevelt camp in the Kenya province reported that the expedition had killed another huge bull elephant in the Mweru district and that Kermit, hunting farther to the north along the Guasa Nyiro river, had brought down five lions and three buffaloes.

The bull elephant was one of the best specimens seen in the Kenya country this season. The natives report game abundant, but they say that the colonel is not killing as many animals as at the beginning of his hunt, owing to the fact that he has now such a wealth of specimens that he is killing game only when it presents some special reason such as its species or size.

As soon as Naturalist Heller and Guide Cunningham have finished curing the elephant skin, the runners say that the colonel and Kermit will exchange sites. Kermit coming to the Kenya to have his first elephant hunt and the colonel going to Guasa Nyiro, where lions are roaming everywhere.

The Guasa Nyiro is the principal river in the Kenya province, separating it from the big Jubaland game reserve to the north.

Both the colonel and Kermit are in the best of health, according to the natives, and both have withstood the rigors of the African hunt better than any other Americans that ever hunted in these parts. Colonel Roosevelt is spending much more time in taking notes and observations of various African conditions than he did earlier in the hunt.
